

Spectralink Hires VP of Americas Sales
--Dave Furtado Brings 30+ Years of Industry Expertise--

BOULDER, COLO., November 13, 2013— Spectralink Corporation (“Spectralink”), a global leader in wireless solutions for the workplace, has announced that Dave Furtado has joined the company as the new VP of Americas Sales effective November 7, 2013.

With over thirty years of experience in the telecommunications industry, Furtado brings an extensive background in communications enterprise software, wireless networking solutions, and global experience in the wireless service provider market. As VP of Americas Sales, Furtado will drive Spectralink’s strategy for sales growth including direct and indirect channels, and the development of new ecosystem partners to leverage the power of Spectralink’s wireless communications portfolio.

“We are pleased to welcome Dave to the Spectralink team,” commented Sten Dyrmosé, President & CEO of Spectralink. “As we continue to grow, Dave’s industry expertise and sales knowledge will help Spectralink deliver effective and reliable wireless solutions to serve the mobile workforce. We know Dave will be an excellent addition to the business and our executive leadership team.”

In addition to more than two decades with Alcatel-Lucent, Furtado has also held Global Vice President of Sales positions at Ascom, SpinVox and Amdocs. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Industrial Psychology from the University of Massachusetts and Executive leadership development programs at MIT, Stanford, University of VA Darden, and Penn State.

“I am delighted to be part of the talented team at Spectralink, and representing an innovative company that is dedicated to providing reliable in-building wireless solutions to its customers,” said Furtado.
